Bruno, Saskatchewan, is a vibrant community of approximately 600 people, including many young Catholic families. It is located an hour east of Saskatoon, a major prairie city with all the amenities, and 20 minutes west of the small city of Humboldt. Many of St. Therese's alumni have chosen to settle in the Bruno and are a source of fellowship and community life. A K-12 school and basic services including pharmacy, groceries, library, insurance, gas/diesel/propane, lumber/hardware, bowling alley, arena, archery range, auto mechanic, and electrical/plumbing trades are available in Bruno. St. Bruno Parish is located next door to St. Therese with a resident priest living in the St. Bruno Rectory.

Bruno hosts an annual festival known as Bruno Cherry Sunday, which along with the sour cherry orchards planted on St. Therese Institute grounds has earned the town its motto of The Cherry Town of the Prairies.

The Town of Bruno vision is : A community You're Proud to call Home. Small Town - Big Heart
